

Lexicography in Asia

featuring a selection of papers from the ASIALEX inauguration conference, Dictionaries in Asia, Hong Kong, 1997
and other papers

Edited by Tom McArthur and Ilan Kernerman

Contents:

- ◇ Introduction – Asian Lexicography: Past, Present and Potential • Tom McArthur • UK
- ◇ Traditionality and Creativity in Lexicography • Lu Gusun • China
- ◇ Corpus Linguistics and Dictionary Making in Korea • Lee Sangsup • Korea
- ◇ The Societal Contexts of Sanskrit, English and Hindi Thesauruses, and the Multilingual Possibilities of the Computer Age • Arvind Kumar • India
- ◇ Dictionaries and Their Development in Second Language Learning Contexts • Anne Pakir • Singapore
- ◇ Dictionaries and Their Users at Chinese Universities: with Special Reference to ESP Learners • Li Lan • China / UK
- ◇ A Corpus-Based Subject-Specific Glossary for Computer Science Related Texts • Jacqueline Lam Kam-mei • China
- ◇ Interacting with the Users: Research Findings in EFL Dictionary User Studies • Yukio Tono • Japan / UK
- ◇ Towards an Active Dictionary for Writing Academic Essays • Noor Ida Ramli • Malaysia
- ◇ New Dictionary Needs of Young Learners of English in Asia • Ilan Kernerman • Israel
- ◇ Indonesian Dictionaries and How Students Use Them • Soekemi • Indonesia
- ◇ Lexicography and Lexicomputing in the Persian Language • Ahmad Taherian • Iran
- ◇ English Lexicography in Japan: its History, Innovations and Impact • Shigeru Yamada and Yuri Komuro • Japan
- ◇ A Radical Change of Direction: English Lexicography in the Fifteenth Century • Reiko Takeda • Japan / UK
- ◇ Postscript • Reinhard R.K. Hartmann • UK

Publication Date: 1 October 1998

© 1998 Password Publishers Ltd.

ISBN 965-90207-0-8

Price: USD 29.50 (includes airmail and handling charges)

Pre-publication orders received by 31 August: USD 22.00

Payment by USD cheque or by credit card

Visa ◦ MasterCard/Eurocard ◦ American Express ◦ Diners

(please indicate your name, ID/passport number, card number and expiration date)